

Lombok, photo and picture gallery

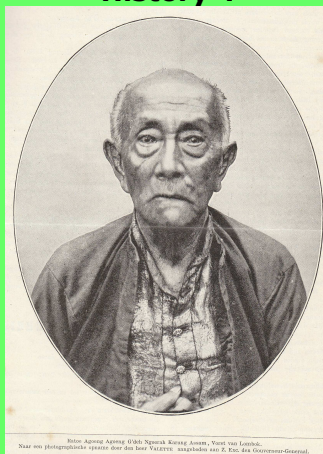

Mayura Park, Cagranegara/Mataram, Lombok 2010

Built and laid out in 1744 by Raja Anak Agung Ngurah, Balinese Raja of Karangasem (Bali) and Mataram (Lombok). Mataram was his residence. The open building, pendopo, in the centre of the picture was a court of justice as well as an official meeting hall. From > Travelbalilombok.wordpress.com. I lost my own photos.

Mayura Park, and vicinity, in Cagranegara was the area where the Dutch colonial army had a rough time in August 1894. The Balinese resistance, with modern arms, was overwhelming. Later that year the Dutch came back and their victory was complete: amidst loud applause of the locals, the Lombok the subSasaks.

This gallery is meant to supplement my article "The Lombok Expedition 1894". You are advised to read this article first. Go back to my sub index page "Lombok History".

Agung Agung G'de Ngurah, the last Raja of Lombok, Karangasem-Mataram
Exiled to Batavia-Jakarta in 1894

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

From> Ditmar, F. B.: Nederland-Lombok; The Hague Holland 1894, front page (illustration by W. C. Fritz), library Dirk Teeuwen

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park is located ten kilometres east from Mayura Park / Pura (Temple) Meru, right from the main road to Labuhan Lombok. Narmada Park is a sort of water palace, It used to be a (water) puri (palace) laid out by Anak Agung Gede Ngurah, a Balinese Raja of Karangasem-Mataram (see picture page 1). The puri was built in 1727. The name Narmada was chosen because of its Hindu origin and means something like “unknown water”. Narmada was built for pleasure as well as for worshipping Hindu Saints, the God Shiva f.e.. Photo Dirk Teeuwen, 2002.

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, one of its lakes, Lombok 1918; from Library Dirk Teeuwen, Magazine “Indië”, volume 1918.

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, the same lake, Lombok 2002; photo Dirk Teeuwen.

A bird eye's view of Narmada Park, Lombok 2010
From> Wikimedia Commons; photo Rollan Budi, Vancouver Canada

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, one of its lakes, northern end, Lombok 1918; from Library Dirk Teeuwen, Magazine "Indië", volume 1918.

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, Lombok 2002; photo Dirk Teeuwen

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, Lombok 2002; photo Dirk Teeuwen

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, Lombok 2002; photo Dirk Teeuwen

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Narmada Park, Lombok 2002; photo Dirk Teeuwen

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

The puri (the Dewa Temple in Mataram) where Major-General Van Ham was killed in battle. Under the black star a small Van Ham Memorial is hardly visible. Lombok 1918; from Library Dirk Teeuwen, Magazine "Indië", volume 1918. This memorial is now part of a beautiful small colonial cemetery in Mataram, Lombok. See: <http://home.iae.nl/users/arcengel/NedIndie/lombok.htm>

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Danau Segara Anak, Lombok 1918; from library Dirk Teeuwen, Magazine "Indië", volume 1918.

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Lombok, July 1894

Before the combat. The young Balinese Raja of Lombok Ketut and his nephew Djilantik, vice-Raja of Karangkasem, Bali, pay a visit to Major-General Vetter and his staff. Sitting from left to right: Raja Ketut, Major-General Van Ham, Major-General Vetter, resident Dannenberg, vice-Raja Djilantik. Standing from left to right: Captain Willemsstijn, Captain Karnister, resident Liefrinck, resident Boersma, Major Kotting.

From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" Volume 1907, library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

From> Ditmar, F. B.: Nederland-Lombok; The Hague Holland 1894, back page (illustration by W. C. Fritz), library Dirk Teeuwen

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Sasaks in Lombok, 1890

From> Cool, Capt. W.: De Lombok Expeditie; Batavia-Jakarta 1896, p. 136

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Punggawas, Balinese rulers of districts in Lombok: subordinated aristocrats, subordinated to the Raja Anak Agung Agung Ngurah Karangasem, the Balinese Raja of Lombok, Karangasem-Mataram (circa 1890).

From> Cool, Capt. W.: De Lombok Expeditie; Batavia-Jakarta 1896, p. 108

Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Colonial school plate collection
Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

The Battle of Cagranegara, Lombok 1894

The original coloured school plate (a big one), a picture by J. Hoyneck van Papendrecht (1858-1933), is part of the author's personal collection. However, it was more practical to adapt a rather vague picture from Wikipedia and to reset it into black and white, after sharpening.

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Balinese Raja and his Punggawas (subordinated aristocrats), circa 1880
From> Cool p. 197

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Balinese Punggawa and his men, Lombok circa 1880
From > Cool p. 73

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Balinese Punggawa in Lombok, circa 1880
From > Cool p. 264

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Buddhist temple at Lingsar in Lombok, circa 1880
From > Cool p. 283

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Balinese warriors, Lombok circa 1890
From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" Volume 1895

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Balinese Punngawas in Lombok, circa 1890. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" Volume 1897; library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

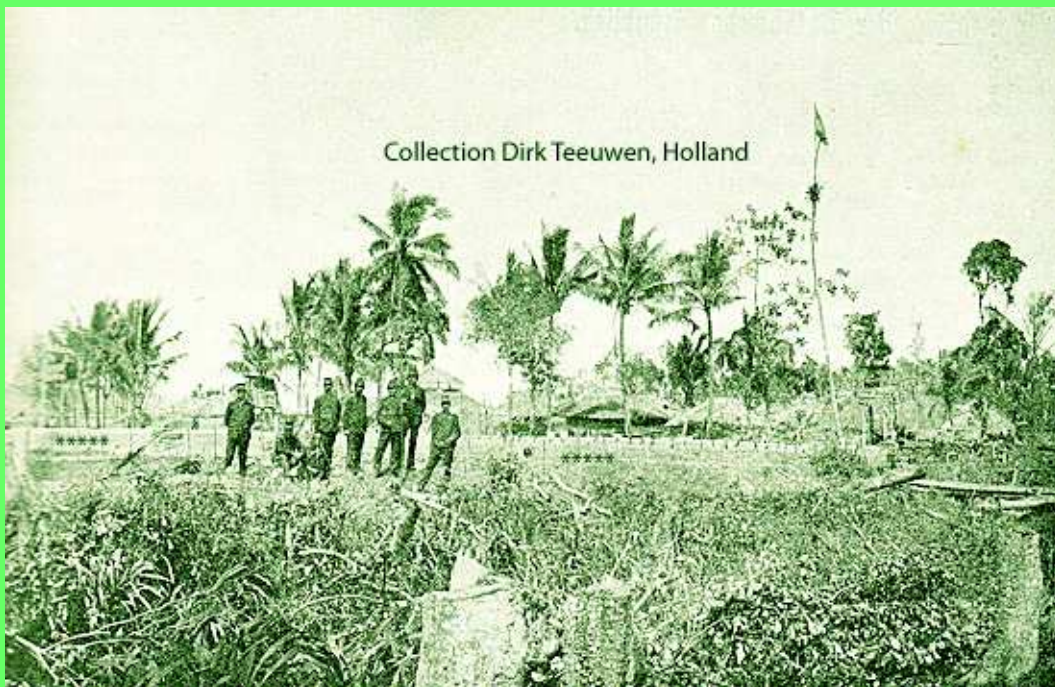

Dutch soldier in a Balinese kampong in Lombok, Lombok September 1894. After taking this picture this kampong was razed to the ground by Dutch military. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895 Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Military officers on Lombok, officers of the infantry column "Van Blommestein", Benteng Kaleh, Lombok September 1894. Major Van Blommestein is the man left on the picture. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895 Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

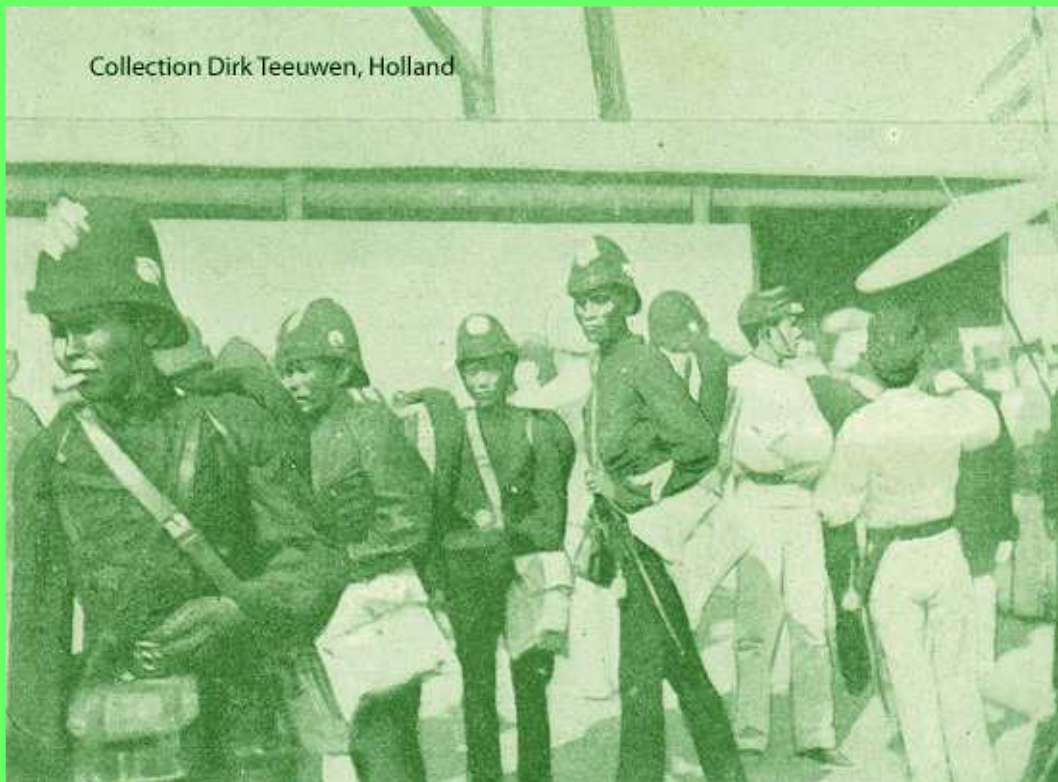

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Our officers of the infantry column "Van Blommestein", again on a picture of saddening quality; Benteng Kaleh, Lombok September 1894. Major Van Blommestein is sitting second from left. Benteng Kaleh is visible. I put some black stars on the defence wall of the Benteng (fortress). From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895 Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

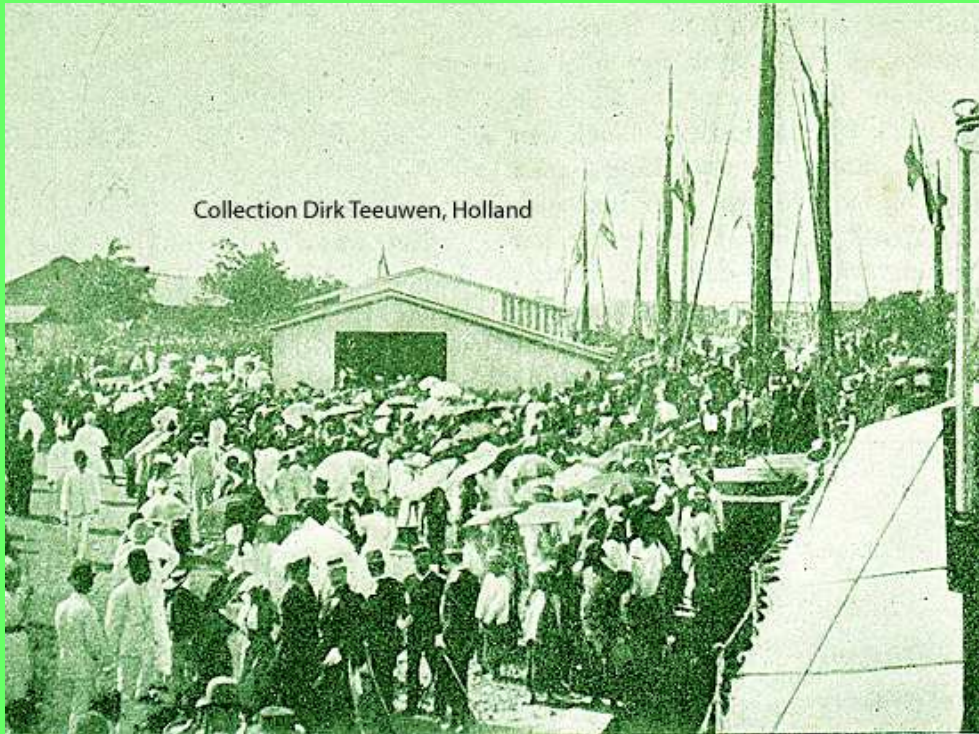

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Infantry of the Dutch East-Indian Army embarking, destination Lombok; Semarang Java, June 1894. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895
Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Infantry of the Dutch East-Indian Army embarking, destination Lombok, Semarang Java, June 1894. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895
Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland
Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Infantry of the Dutch East-Indian Army embarking, destination Lombok, Semarang Java, June 1894. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895
Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Infantry of the Dutch East-Indian Army embarking, destination Lombok, Semarang Java, June 1894. From> Magazine "Eigen Haard" volume 1895
Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland
Man overboard.
Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Column Van Lawick van Pabst on its way to Batu Klian, Lombok August 1894
From> Cool, page 215

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

The column of Lieutenant-Colonel Van Lawick van Pabst in Cagranegara, Lombok August 1894
From> Cool, page 242

Schoemaker, J. P.: Het verraad van Lombok. The Hague Holland 1895

Van Lawick van Pabst and his men
From> Schoemaker, J. P.: Het verraad van Lombok (The Lombok Treason); The Hague Holland 1895, p. 67
Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Van Lawick van Pabst

Lieutenant-Colonel P. van Lawick van Pabst, Commander 9th Battalion Infantry, killed in battle

From> Kepper, G. L.: Wapenfeiten van het Nederlandsch-Indisch Leger; The Hague Holland 1902, p. 483
Library Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland
Wapen van

PIETER LAWICK VAN PABST,
Luitenant-Kolonel der Infanterie, gesneuveld op Lombok, einde Augustus 1894.

.....
Zijn leven, zijn wandel, zijn gedrag, zij elk
militair ten voorbeeld!

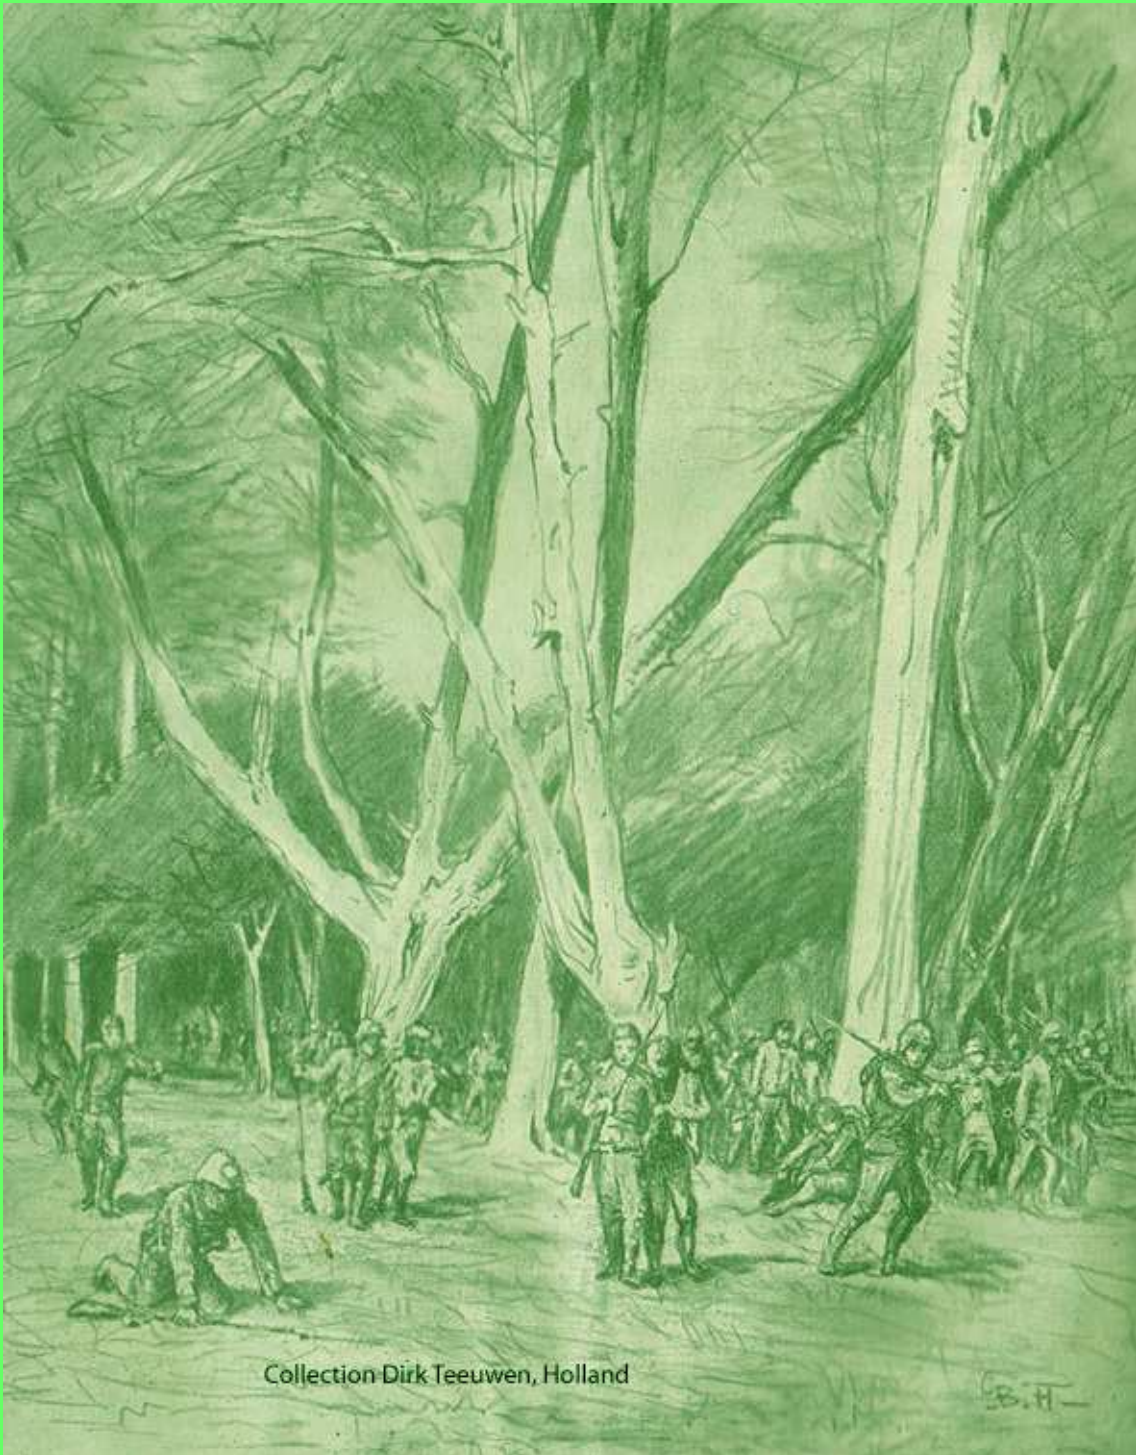

OOSTERWIJK, 7 October 1894.

A. A. Vorstman van Pijen

From> Ditmar, F. B.: Nederland-Lombok; The Hague Holland 1894, library Dirk Teeuwen

The Van Lawick van Pabst coat of arms
(Text) Pieter Lawick van Pabst, Infantry Lieutenant-Colonel, killed in battle in Lombok at the end of August 1894. His way of life, his courage, his behaviour could serve as an example to every soldier.
Oosterwijk Holland, Oct 7th 1894; A. A. Vorstman van Pijen

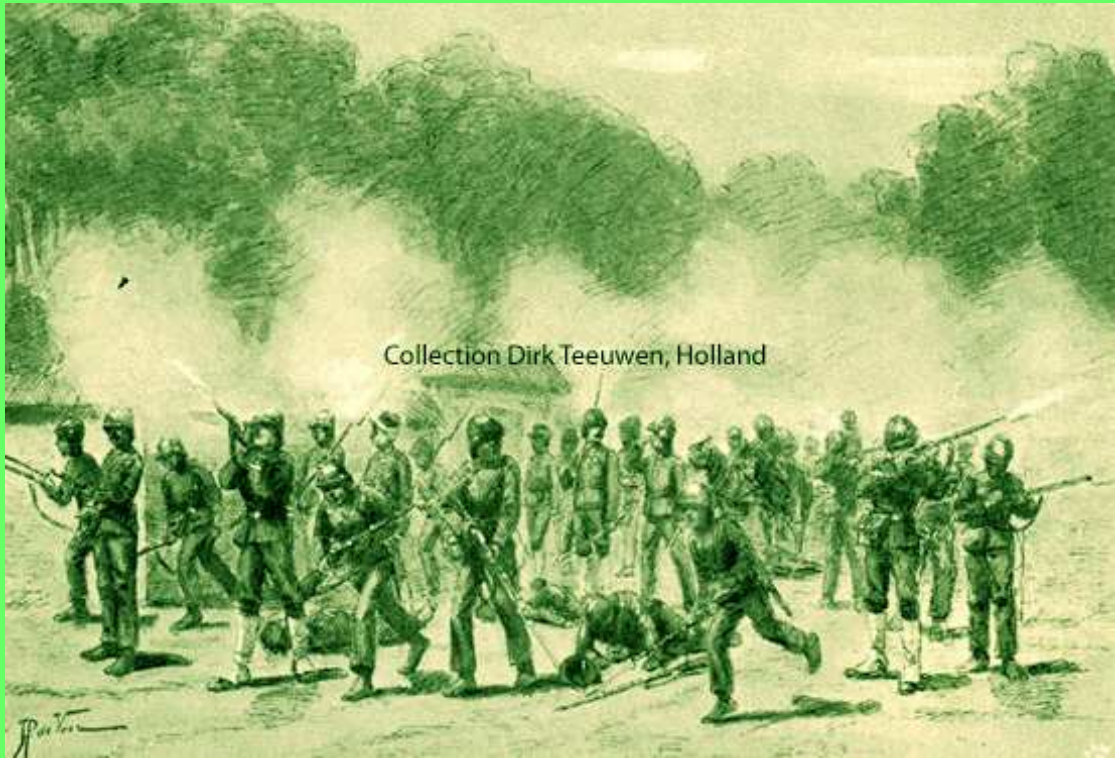

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

August 1894, Vetter's retreat from Cagranegara, Lombok
From> Klepper, page 479

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

August 1894, Vetter's retreat from Cagranegara, Lombok
From > Klepper, page 478

Postcard collection, Dirk Teeuwen Holland

Same picture: from my postcard collection.
From the postcard series "Onze land- en zeemacht" ("Our army and navy"),
published by Jos. Nuss & Co, Amsterdam circa 1900

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

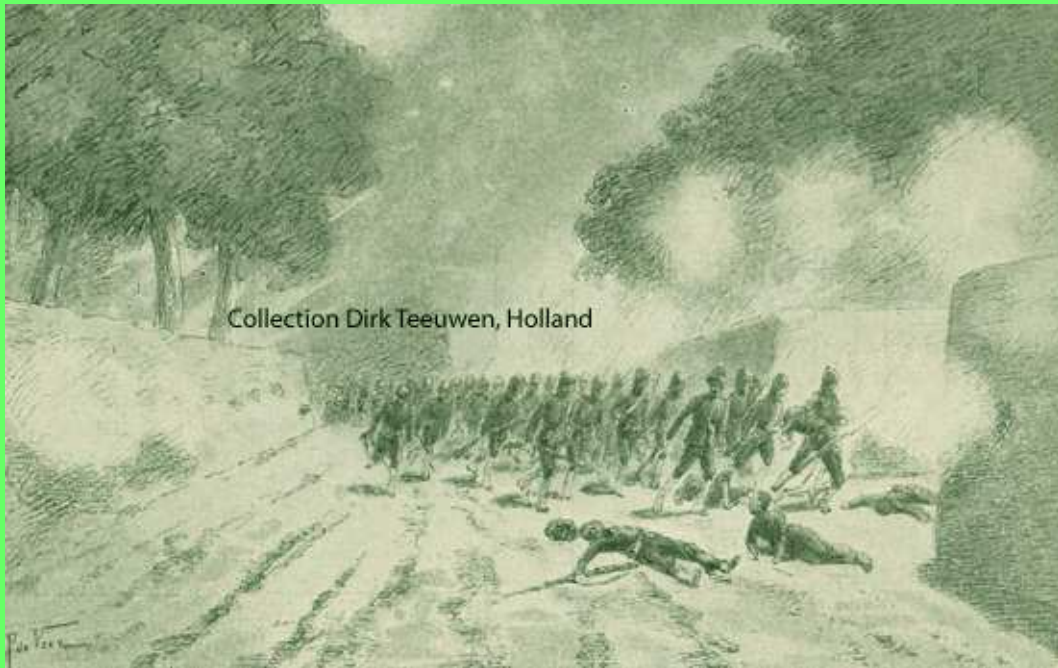

Ampenan, Lombok June 5th 1894
The landing of the Dutch
From > Magazine "Eigen Haard" 1895

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

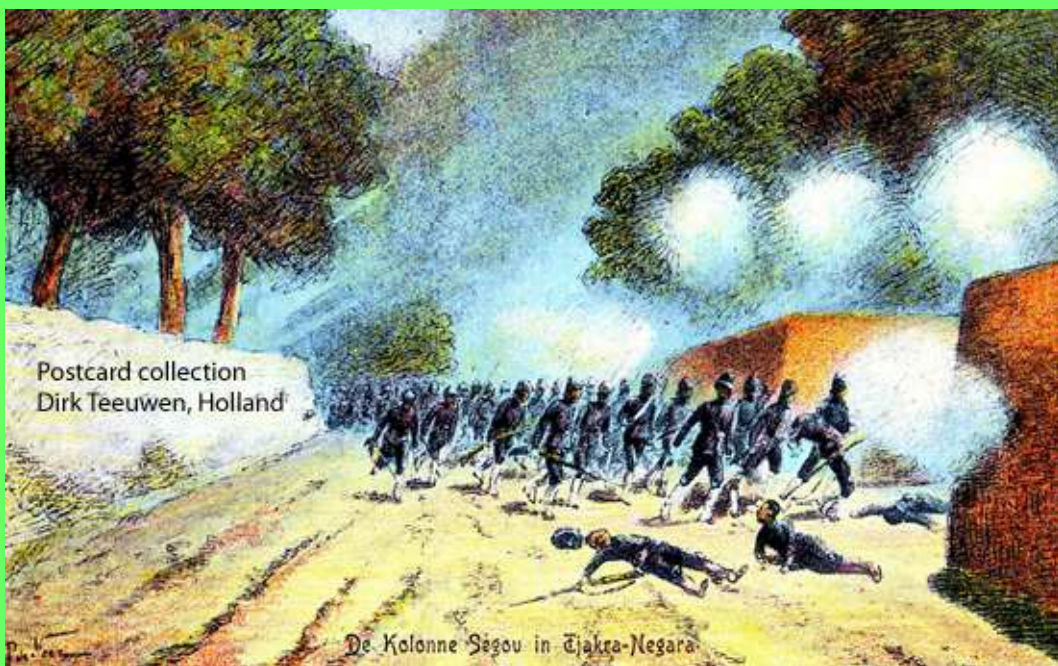

Fighting in Cagranegara, Lombok November 1894
From > Magazine "Eigen Haard" 1895

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Cakranegara, Lombok November 1894
Major-General Segov in action. Column Segov storming in Cagranegara, following its commander Segov.
From > Magazine "Eigen Haard" 1895

Postcard collection
Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

De Kolonne Segov in Cakra-Negara

Same picture: from my postcard collection.
From the postcard series "Onze land- en zeemacht" ("Our army and navy"),
published by Jos. Nuss & Co, Amsterdam circa 1900

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Cakranegara, Lombok November 1894
The Raja family, escorted by colonial cavalry, is going to surrender.

Collection Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

Batavia-Jakarta 1894, arrival of the Raja family and a number of its followers at Tanjung Priok Harbour.

Dirk Teeuwen, Holland

End